Golden Moments in the life of Silkwood Wines, as History Repeats Itself

Modesto, CA – John Monnich of Silkwood is proving that great grapes make superlative wines, as his 2002 Petite Sirah (in its short production history) enjoys much GOLD:

- 2003 California State Fair, GOLD MEDAL, Best in California, Best of All Wines – Napa Appellation, Best of Region, Best of Class ~ 1999 Silkwood Napa Valley Petite Sirah
- 2005 California State Fair, DOUBLE GOLD MEDAL, Best in California, Best of Class ~ 2002 Silkwood Stanislaus County Petite Sirah

With their new Website launched at www.silkwoodwines.com, and the continual process of Silkwood being placed very prominently in wine competitions throughout the United States, John Monnich reflects on the quality of Silkwood Wines: “Our wines are doing extremely well, no matter what appellation is on our label! The significance of our Petite Sirah receiving a double gold this year using our own grapes from the Tuolumne River in Stanislaus County, speaks volumes about the quality of our fruit from the Central Valley. We’re offering the wine industry Double Gold, Best in California, Best of Class. That’s darn good juice! It’s called QPR: Good quality to price ratio!”

With Silkwood wines having the only velvet label in the wine industry (and, it’s trademarked, so it will continue to be the only velvet label in the business), the wine is easy to spot on a shelf, easy to enjoy its QPR, and a rare find in a cluttered world of wine.
